BEHIND THE NAME:

Taken with their Imperial Red Ale's claret color, our brewers conjured a frighteningly good name for this new creation: Nosferatu. Let your eyes creep across our label artwork, and you'll unearth film negatives referencing the classic German horror movie that inspired our spookiest brew.

ABOUT THE STYLE:

A unique style born from the American craft beer movement (Nosferatu was an early example), the Imperial Red Ale blends the bright, bitter hop characteristics of the American IPA and the toasty, caramel malt characteristics of the American Amber Ale. Add a higher ABV and more intense bitterness and roasted malt flavors, and you've got the Imperial Red Ale.
